Appomattox County Library

While substituting at the library last summer, I had several calls for the book, Dog Days at the White House by Traphes Bryant. At that time the library did not have a copy but since then I have been informed that we now have two copies, one of which was sent by mail from Buckingham County with a note but no name signed. Thank you, anonymous donor, whoever you are.

Since sixteen new books have been processed in the last two weeks, one would think it easy to find one, but believe it or not, they are all checked out and the readers clamoring for more. I managed to get two, which I read as quickly as possible and took back for others. Remember, it is important to do this even tho' the time limit is two weeks. Never keep a new book that long if you can possibly read it more quickly, as others are waiting and wishing. The two which I read were Curtain by Agatha Christie and The Greek Treasure by Irving Stone.

Curtain was written in the mid 1940's and was intended to be published after her death, but for some reason, she changed her mind and released it for publication this year. This is one of her better books and will probably be classed with such Christie classics as The Murder of Roger Ackroyd; The A.B.C. Murders; and Ten Little Indians.

Henry Schliemann, the hero of The Greek Treasure, had no formal education past his 14th birthday, yet he spoke and wrote 18 languages. The book is a love story, adventure story and archaeology combined. Sophia (Mrs. Schliemann) was a 17 year old Greek beauty who married Schliemann mainly to help her family, financially. She soon found herself admiring and loving her forty-seven year old husband. They were willing to undergo constant danger and frustration in order to unearth the site of ancient Troy and the royal tombs of Mycenae.

Dr. Schliemann kept a copy of The Iliad in his pocket at all times and slept with it under his pillow.

Irving Stone is unsurpassed in his portrayal of real people in historic settings. If you have read one of his biographical novels you will not be satisfied until you have read them all. Here is a list to choose from: The Agony and the Ecstasy - the story of Michelangelo; Those Who Love - Abigail Adams; Love is Eternal - Mary Todd Lincoln; Imortal Wife - Jessie Benton Fremont; The President's Lady - Rachel Jackson.

Patrons of the library who have been wishing for a drop-in box for books on the porch of the library are about to see their hope smaterialize. The member of XIGamma Tau, Exemplar Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi are very interested in sponsoring this project. Several of them are also members of Friends of the Library so with two such active organizations working together we can expect it to be an accomplished fact very soon.

An extension phone can save you a lot of footwork.

And help you keep all your wits about you.

For it never fails, as soon as you go someplace where the phone isn't, it starts to ring. Then, you've got to drop what you're doing and hope you can reach it before it stops ringing. It's enough to make anyone old before their time!

Maybe you didn't realize it, but an extension phone costs only pennies a day. A small price to pay for the time and energy it saves you. And you can select from a wide variety of new decorator colors and styles that will compliment any room.

Why not call us for more details? One extra phone can take a load off your feet.

Another classic way your phone company comes through with service.
